FAQ'S

What is a Letter of Good Standing?

A Letter of Good Standing is an essential document provided by the Workman's Compensation Fund, serving as official proof that your business is in full compliance with the Fund's requirements.

This letter certifies not only that your business is registered with the Fund under the Compensation for Occupational Injuries and Diseases Act (COIDA) but also that you have maintained up-to-date submissions of your Return of Earnings and all required assessment fee payments.

Why is a Letter of Good Standing important for Tenders and Contracts in South Africa?

By holding a Letter of Good Standing, you demonstrate to clients, contractors, and potential partners that your business meets legal obligations for employee injury coverage, reinforcing your commitment to safety and regulatory compliance.

How long is a letter of good standing valid?

A letter of good standing issued by the Department of Labour is valid for 12 months or from the issue date until April the next year. Granted no payment plan is in place between the Employer and the Department of Labour. Should a payment plan be in place, a letter of good standing would only be valid for a month. Thus, a new letter of good standing will have to be requested after each installment is paid.
